MAYORAL PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, as the Martin Luther King Jr. Day holiday nears, we acknowledge that voting rights were central to Dr. King's agenda, to the Southern Freedom Struggle, and to the Civil Rights Movement for justice and equality for African Americans; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the last election, legislation is being enacted in several states to restrict voting rights, the foundational rights of our democracy that many men and women in previous years have protested, fought, and died for; and

WHEREAS, at the present time two vital federal voting rights bills are stalled in the Senate, while in our community and nationwide we prepare to commemorate the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.; and

WHEREAS, the John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, named in honor of the civil rights icon and late Georgia congressman, has been proposed in Congress to fight voter suppression and restore enforcement provisions of the 1965 Voting Rights Act; and

WHEREAS, the Freedom to Vote Act would establish provisions promoting voter participation, such as abolishing restrictions on voter registration, establishing Election Day as a public holiday, ensuring all states have established early voting provisions for federal elections, and allowing all voters to request mail-in ballots, among other important provisions; and

WHEREAS, the family of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. recently called for using Martin Luther King Jr. Day to put pressure on lawmakers to pass the John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act and the Freedom to Vote Act; and

WHEREAS, the family of Dr. Martin Luther King, in "calling our nation's attention to securing and protecting the most sacred right of our democracy, which is the right to vote," further stated that "if voting rights are still hanging in the balance" by Martin Luther King Jr. Day, they are calling for supporters to "speak and act in a way to ensure that this nation lives up to its promise of democracy, by putting pressure on our United States Senate to bypass the filibuster and instead of taking the King holiday off, they should make it a 'day on' to pass the voting rights acts."; and

WHEREAS, the City of Bellingham traditionally hosts and participates in Martin Luther King Jr. Day community events and activities; and

WHEREAS, those activities planned for 2022 Martin Luther King Jr. Day in which the City of Bellingham is involved are in alignment with Dr. Bernice King's request that the day be one of commemoration and service, a "day on" to educate, advocate and activate; and

WHEREAS, we support and join the King family in their efforts to move these two vital voter rights bills forward and to use the Martin Luther King Jr. Day holiday as an opportunity and a platform to do so. We refuse to stand by silent while voter rights are eroded.
