Kudos to staff for stoically attending yet another meeting regarding the draft Fairhaven Plan in order to obtain input; which if not mistaken I believe has previously been obtained through the myriad other advertised public meetings held in 2010 and 2011, as well as voluminous written comments and critiques.

At this point you may all be able to recite the draft Plan by heart. Thank you for your patience and perseverance!

Kind regards,

Sue Kaun

Hello Fairhaven Stakeholders:

Tomorrow night, Thursday, February 16th, the City is hosting a public input session on the Fairhaven Neighborhood and Urban Village Planning project at 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. in Council Chambers. This session is an opportunity for stakeholders to provide comments in person on the December 21, 2011 working draft documents available on the project website at www.cob.org/fairhaven.

Please note that for those who wish to speak there will be a sign up sheet, and all speakers will be timed to ensure those who are present have the opportunity to do so. There will be a very brief introduction, and the session will be recorded.

Also note that the deadline for written comments has been extended to Thursday, February 23rd so staff may review and consider those comments as the final Planning Commission draft documents are completed. Comments are currently being posted on the project website at www.cob.org/fairhaven (click Public Comments). Following the release of the final Planning Commission draft documents, a Comment Tracker will organize the comments for the formal legislative review and comments will be posted in batches.

Thank you for your continued interest and involvement in this project.
