APPENDIX A: RESEARCH METHODS AND DATA QUALITY

RESEARCH METHODS

Sampling

The current survey employed random sample based on Bellingham addresses rather than landline phone numbers in order to increase the coverage of the target population (this is because each household has an address, but not every household has a landline telephone, and if they do, they might screen calls). In contrast, before 2010 surveys were conducted by landline telephone using a random digit dial sample of City of Bellingham residents. The 2010 and 2013 surveys urged residents to complete the survey online and also provided interviews by telephone. This multi-mode methodology is a distinctly different and more comprehensive approach from those in the past. The final sample consisted of 597 City residents.

Survey administration and margin of error

The survey was administered by sending a letter from Mayor Kelli Linville's office signed by the mayor and produced on City letterhead and envelopes to 3519 randomly sampled households with Bellingham zip codes (4000 were sent, but 481 were returned by the post office). The letter stated that the Bellingham City Council and the Mayor are seeking residents' input about City government services and issues facing our community. The letter briefly described the survey and indicated that the survey could be taken either on-line for which a web-link was provided, or by phone for which a toll-free number was provided. In the final sample 352 of residents took the survey on-line and 245 residents took it by phone.

The survey was administered both on-line and by telephone during the period from November 12th through December 3rd, 2013. The survey took about 15 ½ minutes to complete (median=15:28).

The survey consisted of 48 questions, 42 substantive and six demographic questions for statistical purposes. The final sample's demographics are provided in Appendix C. Surveys took a median of 15 ½ minutes to complete. The data were examined and all complete surveys from City of Bellingham residents were included in the final sample of 597 residents.

The margin of error for a sample size of 597 plus or minus 4% percentage points at the 95% confidence level. The margins of error will be higher for smaller subgroup analyses, such as in analyses of residents' characteristics that were associated with their ratings. Rounding of decimals (at 0.5) may sometimes produce percentages that exceed or fall below 100%.

Comparison of Current Findings with Previous Surveys

When data collection methods vary even slightly, results cannot be confidently attributed to changes in opinion. Understanding the desire to look back and compare with the previous results, this report provides comparisons to the 2010 findings for all metrics questions. Readers should be aware of the need to exercise caution in drawing conclusions based on 2013 and 2010 and 2008 comparisons.

DATA QUALITY

Coding of Open Ended Survey Questions

The survey contained four questions that invited residents to provide detailed open ended responses. For each question, two coders independently scored responses, coding them into the categories provided in the 2010 report but augmented with any missing City of Bellingham Legacy areas as well as topics that were present in the data. The two coders discussed their results at length. Any discrepancies were scrutinized and resolved by the lead coder.

Analysis of Residents' Characteristics

Characteristics of the residents that might be associated with their survey ratings were investigated for every survey question. Characteristics included sex, age, income level, home ownership, how many years they have lived in Bellingham, and whether or not they had minor children in the home.

 Income level data for Bellingham from bestplaces.net (01-17-2014)

Readers should note that this survey likely under represents the views of people ages 18 to 34 and slightly over represents the views and experiences of people ages 55 and older. Additionally, this sample over represents residents with high incomes.

This sample is similar to the 2010 one in age, sex, and whether or not there were minor children in the home.

APPENDIX B: SURVEY SCRIPT

City of Bellingham Residential Survey 2013 Programmed for residents to complete online

Thank you for participating in this important survey.

As one of only 1,000 City residents selected who we expect to participate, your feedback is important to help us make decisions about City programs and priorities. We'll also use the information we collect to help us understand your experiences with City services and to measure our performance in delivering results on community priorities.

Your responses are anonymous and will be kept confidential. We expect the survey to take about 10 minutes to complete.

Each question requires a response, but you may answer "Don't know" or "Prefer not to say" at any time in the survey.

Please enter the Personal PIN that you received in your letter to begin.

November 8, 2013

The Bellingham City Council and I are seeking your input about City government services and issues facing our community. We are conducting a survey of Bellingham residents, and you were selected at random to participate.

As one of only 1,000 City residents we expect to participate, your feedback is important to help us make decisions about City programs and priorities. We'll also use the information we collect to help us understand your experiences with City services, and to measure our performance in delivering results on community priorities.

Your participation is greatly appreciated, and be assured your responses are anonymous and will be kept confidential. We expect the survey to take about 10 minutes to complete.

We have contracted with Pacific Market Research, an independent market research company, to conduct the survey. In order to make taking the survey as simple as possible, you may complete it online or over the telephone:

Online: To complete the survey online, please visit <http://survey.arnorthwest.com/cob2013> and enter the personal identification number (PIN) listed on the upper right of this letter.

Telephone: If you prefer to provide your answers over the telephone, please call 1-877-691-2586 and have your PIN ready. If an interviewer is not available when you call, please leave your phone number and the best time to reach you.

To be scientifically accurate and closely reflect the opinions of the whole community, we want to collect the most responses possible from the residents chosen to participate. A Pacific Market Research interviewer may give you a reminder call in the next two weeks if they have not heard from you before then.

Thank you in advance for participating in our survey. We appreciate your time and your willingness to share feedback with us.

Sincerely,

Kelli Linville, Mayor
City of Bellingham
