Bellingham

POLICE

Washington State Accredited Agency

Your Bellingham Police Department maintains a commitment to our community by respecting the people we serve, acting with integrity and demonstrating accountability to those that we serve.

As entrusted guardians of our community, our interactions in the performance of our official duties sometimes brings us into conflict with members of society that fail to heed our community's wishes for order and peace. It is the policy of your police department that your officers may only use that amount of force when necessary under the totality of circumstances and when employed in the performance of a legal duty, using reasonable care. Your police department's use of force policies are consistent with the laws of the United States and the State of Washington. Your police department also strives to have policies that are consistent, with identified "best practices," and contemporary scientific discovery and application.

The components for constitutional policing are training, policy, and supervision. Your police department maintains the highest standards and attention to all three areas and will continue to be an agency that serves its community with commitment, vision, and values.

SECTION ONE: Incident Information

Total number of use of force incidents:	16 / 0.31%	YTD 136 / 0.24%
• Incidents involving one officer:	4 / 25%	YTD 13 / 10%
• Incidents involving more than one officer:	12 / 75%	YTD 123 / 90%

According to the city's Computer-Aided Dispatch information from November 1st through November 30th of this year, your Bellingham Police officers responded to 5082 calls for service. These calls for service also included officer-initiated activities where an officer contacted someone, performed a traffic stop, or witnessed an incident and were investigating further.

For fans of numbers, this means that 0.31%, or a little more than one-quarter of one percent of incidents in November resulted in your officers using lawful force against a citizen. (55,916 calls this year)

Incident origin:

- Call for service from 911 or flagged down by citizen. 15 / 94% YTD 126 / 93%
- Self-initiated by officer(s) 1 / 6% YTD 10 / 7%

Put into perspective with the previous information, this means that in all 5082 calls for service that your police officers responded to in the month of November, only once did an officer's self-initiated contact end with your officers using lawful force against a citizen.

Numerically speaking, Officers used force after self-initiating contact in 0.02% of incidents in September.

Reason for use of force:

- Active resistance to lawful commands 12 / 75% YTD 93 / 68%
- Actively aggressive 2 / 13% YTD 21 / 15%
- Assaultive 2 / 13% YTD 20 / 15%
- Life-threatening 0 / 0% YTD 2 / 1%

Your police officers are allowed by law to use force in the discharge of their duties.

As the information above has already shown, your police officers very rarely have to use force to accomplish their lawful objectives. The reasons listed above show that some citizens do not wish to submit to officers' lawful authority. How the citizens resist lawful actions of your officers is detailed hereafter, along with officers' responses.

Citizen Resistance

• Barricaded	0	YTD 1 / 1%
• Fled	7 / 44%	YTD 35 / 26%
• Hiding	2 / 13%	YTD 11 / 8%
• Physical resistance	12 / 75%	YTD 110 / 81%
• Refuse lawful commands	15 / 94%	YTD 131 / 96%

Officers' Force Response

(16 events, 41 involved ofcs) (YTD 136 events, 395 involved ofcs)

• Physical control(s)	27 / 169%	YTD 270 / 199%
• Physical impact(s)	1 / 6%	YTD 5 / 4%
• TASER display	1 / 6%	YTD 7 / 5%
• Verbal command	32 / 200%	YTD 286 / 210%
• Weapon pointing	0	YTD 0
• Restraints	0	YTD 1 / 1%
• Less Lethal Shotgun	1 / 6%	YTD 6 / 4%
• Less Lethal Shotgun display	0	YTD 1 / 1%
• K9 application	1 / 6%	YTD 9 / 7%
• TASER usage	2 / 13%	YTD 5 / 4%
• Vascular Neck Restraint	0	YTD 0
• Chemical Irritant	2 / 13%	YTD 5 / 4%
• Pursuit Immobilization Technique	1 / 6%	YTD 1 / 1%
• Firearm	0	YTD 0
• Impact Weapon	0	YTD 0

A citizens' resistance to lawful commands can take more than one form; sometimes your officers' response to these situations necessitates finding a solution that safely resolves the situation. For example, a citizen may refuse a lawful command, then flee on foot and ultimately resist physically when located. For that one incident, three specific items are documented. In the same manner, one of your officers may give a lawful verbal command. When that lawful command is disregarded, the officer, or other officers on scene, may need to employ a physical control technique such as using a "high-low" technique to stop a fleeing subject. Thus, two specific items are documented with multiple officers involved.

Of note, your officers noted that for this particular data set, verbal commands were disregarded by citizens in 15 of the 16 incidents (94%) wherein lawful force was used by your officers. Citizens were more likely to offer physical resistance to lawful commands after that. Your officers used authorized physical controls like grabbing arms for handcuffing or holding folks from fleeing far more than deploying other modalities of force like TASERS or physical strikes.

In addition, do not forget that 0.31%, or a little more than one-quarter of one percent of incidents in November resulted in your officers using lawful force against a citizen, so your police department using force to accomplish lawful objectives is a rarity.

SECTION TWO: Involved Persons' Information

The data presented in this section will provide information on the citizens involved in your police department's use of force incidents, along with information on your police officers involved in those incidents.

Injuries to Citizens due to Officers' force: 5 / 31% YTD 33 / 24%

For the month of November, your officers used lawful force 0.31%, or a little more than one-quarter of one percent in the incidents they responded to. Of the 5082 incidents your officers responded to, five of those incidents responded to by your officers resulted in an injury from your officers using lawful force against a citizen. That means an injury in 0.1% of incidents.

Citizens Transported to Hospital: 4 / 25% YTD 44 / 32%

- (2) emergent detention, (1) protective custody - alcohol, (1) DUI warrant blood draw

As noted above, your officers noted that in four incidents where lawful force was used on citizens the citizens were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital for medical care. Two citizens appeared to be having behavioral health issues that posed a danger to themselves or others; your police department strives to have mental health issues handled by the hospital, not the jail, and thus the citizen was taken to the hospital by your officers for the appropriate care.

Injuries to Officers: 2 / 13% YTD 34 / 25%

Officers Transported to Hospital: 0 YTD 0

Median Age of Citizen: 29.5 years

- Youngest 19, Oldest 71

Median Age of Officer: 35 years

- Youngest 25, Oldest 54

Median ages were determined to be the best descriptor in these two categories, as the reader can gain a better appreciation for the more-likely ages rather than having an average age be skewed by outliers.

In addition, this information serves as a good reminder to the fact that your officers encounter folks from all age ranges in the performance of their official duties and sometimes encounter unlawful resistance from citizens, both younger and older.

Race of Citizen

- White 13 / 67% YTD 92 / 68%
- Black or African American 2 / 6% YTD 20 / 15%
- American Indian 1 / 17% YTD 15 / 11%
- Hispanic 0 / 6% YTD 5 / 4%
- Asian/Pacific Islander 0 / 6% YTD 4 / 3%

Race of Officer

- White 37 / 231% YTD 369 / 271%
- Black or African American 1 / 6% YTD 4 / 3%
- East Indian 0 / 0% YTD 0
- Hispanic 0 / 0% YTD 8 / 6%
- Asian/Pacific Islander 3 / 19% YTD 13 / 10%
- Incident totals 16 136

Resident of Whatcom County / Bellingham?

- Yes 14 / 88% YTD 117 / 86%
- No 1 / 6% YTD 16 / 12%
- Unknown 1 / 6% YTD 2 / 1%

Statistical analysis of police use of force often has a discussion component concerning the population demographics of the involved citizens. The reader is cautioned to remember that from a statistical basis, comparing outlying events to population demographics often will not give the reader an accurate assessment of the situation.

For example, in the month of November, 88% of citizens that your officers used lawful force on were residents of either Whatcom County or the City of Bellingham.

However, do not forget that in the month of November your officers used lawful force in only 0.31%, or a little more than one-quarter of one percent of incidents. So, these incidents are truly outliers and thus may not adhere to population demographics. For example, one person of Black or African American ancestry had lawful force used against them in order to achieve lawful objectives in November, or 0.02%, or around two one-hundredths of one percent of the responses to incidents by your police department that month; this is nowhere near the city demographic.

This information was provided by your police department to better inform the community we serve about use of force incidents. Your officers are empowered by the laws of the United States and the State of Washington to lawfully use force when necessary under the totality of circumstances and when employed in the performance of a legal duty, using reasonable care. This authority is viewed as an awesome responsibility to our community and your officers wish to be transparent so that our community understands that, although a statistical rarity, sometimes your officers have to lawfully gain compliance in the performance of their official duties.

Future information will also display the year-to-date information so that the community maintains a trusting relationship towards their police department in the topic of police use of force.
