JOB TITLE: Human Resources Analyst – Selections & Recruitment
DEPARTMENT: Human Resources

E-PLAN
SG:E2-6
CS:N
FLSA:N
EEO4CODE:PR

JOB SUMMARY:

The Human Resources Selections and Recruitment Analyst works collaboratively, but independently, under general direction in carrying out complex work in recruitment, performance management, Civil Service/merit system selection, labor relations support, training and other professional human resources functions. Serves as lead on City's selection and recruitment efforts. Provides consultation, advice and direct service to City departments and employees regarding sensitive personnel and organizational issues. Job emphasis is on responsibility for analysis of problems, issues, and situations arising from work assignments, and for development, communication and implementation of recommendations. May be assigned as lead in additional functional area of expertise or on special projects including responsibility for budgeting and contract work. Work is performed in a unionized environment.

SUPERVISORY RELATIONSHIPS:

Reports to the Human Resources Director or designee and works under applicable federal and State employment and EEO regulations, Civil Service Rules, labor agreements, and City and departmental policies and procedures. Serves as lead for selections and recruitment and may serve as lead on assigned projects. May assign and review work of support staff and participate in their performance appraisal. May supervise interns.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

1. Provides advice and assistance to assigned departments based on substantial and broad knowledge of City policies, procedures, labor agreements, Civil Service Rules, and Human Resources principles and practices.
2. Provides consultation to City managers on personnel and organizational development problems and issues including staffing and placement, performance management, classification and job restructuring. Troubleshoots issues and offers alternatives for early resolution.
3. Provides information to employees and supervisors concerning implementation of Human Resources policies and procedures, EEO and labor regulations.

4. Provides direct assistance to employees to answer questions, concerns, or complaints: clarifies and identifies issues, provides information on procedures and entitlements, works with managers, staff and union representatives to resolve issues. Assists departments with the investigation of allegations of misconduct, including discrimination, and provides information on procedural requirements.
5. Provides guidance and/or conducts investigations. Prepares and reviews fact finding and investigation summaries. Advises on disciplinary penalty. Prepares and reviews disciplinary notices. Works with legal department or outside counsel to prepare and review case files for responding to complaints and appeals under contract or law. May work with union representatives and employees in dispute settlement discussions.
7. Plans, formulates, constructs and administers recruitment and selection processes for all levels of positions; develops oral, written, physical agility, and performance examinations as needed; screens applications and oversees and may participate in interviews of applicants for City employment. Reviews and recommends reasonable accommodation for placement of disabled applicants or employees.
8. Works collaboratively with departments to develop and prepare selection process. Develops and presents eligibility registers to Civil Service Commission for approval. Works with assigned Chief Examiner to resolve issues or disputes regarding Civil Service exams and develops appropriate information for Civil Service review and/or decision.
9. Serves as staff lead for selections and recruitment including annual program planning and budgeting responsibilities. Acts as project manager or team leader for the development of new or revised selections and recruitment systems and procedures as assigned.
9. Facilitates hiring and placement by providing departments with information on Civil Service and City selection policies and appointment procedures. Receives and responds to information requests from candidates about various testing and employment matters.
10. Monitors legal changes and best practices impacting selection and recruitment. Makes recommendations for modifications to testing processes, Civil Service rules and selection and recruitment policies to maintain relevancy of practices and policies.
11. Promotes equity, diversity and inclusion through selection and recruitment processes and practices. Researches creative ways to improve and incorporate equity, diversity and inclusion in recruitment activities. Researches new ideas through media, trainings and peers, preparing recommendations for action.
12. Assists staff and employees with understanding rights and responsibilities under collective bargaining law and agreements. Provides guidance and assistance on the procedures and resolution of employee contract grievances. Provides assistance to labor-management committees at the departmental level as provided under contract and law. Provides staff support for labor contract negotiations: researching and preparing information and assisting at bargaining and arbitration. Serves as notetaker in labor negotiations.
