NATURE OF WORK:

Responds to a full-range of readers' advisory, informational, research and referral questions; provides instruction in the use of Library resources. Responsibilities include significant public contact; may be responsible for services to unique population groups or for a specialized service or subject area. Provides general training, and technical guidance to Library staff on library resources, trends, and technologies. Takes a proactive leadership role in the resolution of daily operational situations and issues as they emerge.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS:

The Librarian I classification is distinguished by its primary focus on performing professional public service functions. A Librarian I relies on direction from Librarian II or member of the Library management team when working on more complex assignments.

SUPERVISORY RELATIONSHIPS:

Reports to a member of the Library management team. Work is performed within established Library policies, procedures, standards and professional practices, under the general guidance of management or other professional employee of higher classification. May provide training, direction, and technical guidance to staff in a lower classification, as assigned.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

1. Provides professional service to the public, using varied communication tools and methods. Responds to a full-range of readers' advisory, informational and specialty service questions using a variety of digital and print information sources.

2. Provides instruction to community members and library staff on how to effectively use library resources and technologies, using a variety of tools and methods; assists in developing curriculum.

3. Prepares bibliographies, booklists, displays and instructional materials to help members of the public locate materials.
4. Promotes, educates and supports Intellectual Freedom principles with staff and patrons. Resolves related concerns or redirects to appropriate source.

5. Prepares, presents, or facilitates programs such as book talks, book discussions, or community forums to meet the reading and educational interests of the community and further the mission of the library.

6. Serves as person-in-charge as assigned, typically on nights and weekends. Provides leadership to resolve daily operational situations and issues, such as meeting room schedule conflicts, questions regarding unexpected employee absences, and facility issues. Manages more complex issues until they can be elevated to higher classified staff.

7. Performs routine public service functions such as patron account maintenance, negotiating payment arrangements and checkout agreements with patrons, including cash and credit card transactions.

ADDITIONAL WORK PERFORMED:

1. Maintains an awareness of current library issues and trends by reading professional and related literature. Attends conferences, classes, and workshops to continue professional development and education.

2. May provide direction to staff in lower classifications and volunteers

3. May perform collection development duties in a specified area, including selection and weeding. May participate in planning and implementing special projects related to collections.

4. May be responsible for Library services to unique population groups or for a specialized Library service.

5. May contribute to development of Library policies and procedures.

6. May serve on task forces or committees.

7. Performs other related work of a similar nature and level.
