Subject: Renters Junk

As I walked the dogs this AM every apartment complex on Ashley and Consolidation had for rent signs or apartments available! I thought I would share what the movers left behind

So three more neighbors have put their house up for sale and are preparing to move. Some of the current and new renters in near by homes have taken to parking on the street and in the wrong direction. All because there are more renters than parking spots. Others come and go at random times and fly up and down the street in excess of 40 miles.

My closet neighbor has contracted someone to build a steel fence out to the street since we have no sidewalks, in order to keep renter who park blocking driveways and on private property off of his. Oh and the junk from renters leaving and moving in continue to pile up. Enjoy!
